

FUNK THE JUNK

Upcycle ideas and inspiration with a tuned orchestration of everyday objects reinvented to create a sonic salvage jam.

How it works

Funk the Junk offers a fresh new approach with professionally tuned 'scrapyard' instruments, passionately reinvented from the urban wasteland such as tuned pressure tanks, flipflopaphones and harmonic firebells. Participants improvise, compose, conduct, explore, and experience soundscapes from the twilight zone to foot stomping fun. They learn and put in to practise conducting skills. In the finale, they put together all the best elements discovered.

Learning outcomes

Re-imagining the future is critical to progressive business strategy. Funk the Junk encourages participants to re-think the boundaries of what's possible with limited resources.

This all-inclusive energiser presents a level playing field for learning with instrument to suit all personalities. It Creates collective positive thinking and encouragement to unite teams in a shared creative vision.
