

ORCHESTRATE!

A powerful and emotional musical experience which demonstrates that through teamwork, the impossible is achievable.

How it works

Participants choose an instrument - strings, woodwind, brass or percussion and then work in separate sections under the guidance of expert musicians to learn the basics of their instrument. Once proficient they then come together as one mighty symphony orchestra under the baton of the conductor to play a specially-written, five-minute-long piece of music. The effect is magnificently spell binding.

Learning outcomes

Orchestrate! inspires and challenges It stretches participants to their full potential and beyond their perceived limitations. It demands hard work, total concentration, focus and real teamwork.

But, as hard as this challenge is, the reward is an unforgettable experience that everyone will be talking about and learning from long after the final note is played.
